De-Mystifying & Understanding the Reentry Client

ALISA SMEDLEY

In this era of mass incarceration Coach Smedley has both personal and professional expertise. Her father entered prison when she was 10-years-old and walked out when she was 25. Six of her 7 uncles were incarcerated in jails and prisons in Ohio. Coach Smedley's family has served a combined 75 years behind bars. Despite such negative circumstances Coach Smedley managed to grow up and thrive. In her book "Embracing Your Story: How to Build a Great Life Out of Hardship" she shares her uplifting story. She has worked in the field reentry for the past 20 years in multiple settings including community and facility-based programs. Her unique perspective allows her to provide practical training for practitioners engaged in the challenging work of reentry.

How to Boost Your Reentry Job Readiness Program

TARA TIMBERMAN

Tara J. Timberman has worked at the crossroads of criminal justice, post-secondary education, and workforce development since 2005. Her expertise lies in developing, implementing, and managing strategic initiatives designed to assist adults with criminal records with overcoming barriers to their personal, academic, and professional success. Presently, Ms. Timberman is Director of Workforce Development for Local 54, a UNITE HERE! union affiliate representing over 12,000 hospitality workers across New Jersey and Pennsylvania, including 1/3 of Atlantic City's restaurant and hotel casino employees. Prior to joining Local 54, Ms. Timberman spent over a decade working behind bars, on college campuses, and in the wider community increasing the capacity for organizations, institutions, and systems to serve criminal justice-affected populations.
